

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Thomas J. Snyder of Spencer Stuart joins TillmanCarlson

Chicago, IL (January 3, 2014) – TillmanCarlson is extremely pleased to announce the addition of Tom Snyder as an equal owner and partner. Snyder joins Rob Tillman and Kelly Carlson and the firm's new name will be Tillman|Carlson|Snyder.

Snyder most recently served as a senior consultant and key member of Spencer Stuart's North American Board & CEO Practice where he completed more than 75 CEO assignments, 65 division president/COO assignments, and over 100 board assignments. He has also been a key member of the Consumer Goods & Services and Private Equity Practices, and during the last nineteen years with the firm has led the Chicago office and the Midwest region. Tom also brings eighteen years of line experience having served as President and COO of the ConAgra Refrigerated Products Group, and in sales and marketing roles with Coca-Cola, Procter & Gamble, and Nestle.

Together with Rob Tillman and Kelly Carlson, the three partners will continue their focus at the C-Suite level while delivering executive search, benchmarking and succession planning services, now with expanded capabilities to conduct Board and CEO assignments. Importantly, the firm will remain committed to the philosophy of experienced partners working together and serving a select number of clients enabling us to focus on the market and deliver the power of a team.

The firm's new website will be officially launched on February 1, and Rob and Kelly trust you will join us in welcoming Tom as we begin this new and exciting chapter.
